

A Top Company for Women-owned Businesses

JPMorgan Chase won top honors from the Women's Business Enterprise National Council and was also recognized by Professional Women's Magazine as a Top Financial & Banking Company.

JPMorgan Chase has been named a 2017 America's Top Corporation for Women's Business Enterprises by Women's Business Enterprise National Council (WBENC). WBENC recognizes companies that successfully drive the inclusion of women-owned businesses when choosing third-party vendors. This designation is particularly noteworthy because it is the first time the firm has been included on this list.

The firm was also named to Professional Women's Magazine's 2018 list of Top Financial & Banking Companies.

Each Year DiversityComm Inc. and its six diversity magazines, (one of which is Professional Women's Magazine), conduct select evaluations of the nation's employers, supplier diversity programs, industry leaders, government agencies and schools to identify the "Best of the Best" in outreach and accessibility to minorities, women, veterans, LGBT and people with disabilities.

DiversityComm's research division assesses corporate policies that support the access, advancement and inclusion of all, regardless of race, gender, age, sexual orientation or disability. They also take into account support, sponsorship and participation in diverse business conferences throughout the year.

In 2017, JPMorgan Chase spent close to $680 million with women-owned businesses. Partnering with business advocacy organizations such as the Women's Business Enterprise National Council enables the firm to build and strengthen relationships with women business owners and support their success.
