Implementation Reporting

JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A. has a Global Environmental and Social Risk Management team (GESRM), which is responsible for the implementation of the firm's commitments articulated in the public Environmental and Social Policy Framework and the firm's internal Environmental and Social Risk Policy. Both documents refer to the firm's obligations in relation to the Equator Principles as well as to the firm's broader approach to managing environmental and social risk. In addition, internal procedures are in place to provide additional guidance on Equator Principles requirements and due process.

GESRM consists of eight full-time employees. GESRM serves as one of the control groups in the firm wide transaction risk review and approval process. In this capacity, GESRM leads all Equator Principles reviews, working with and guiding the relevant deal teams to ensure that reviews are undertaken appropriately. Other internal control groups that review such transactions include credit and legal. Respective deal teams are responsible for escalating relevant transactions to GESRM for consideration and review, and working with GESRM and the client to fulfill Equator Principles obligations. The deal teams escalate directly to GESRM or via the firm's internal conflicts management process, which generates a referral to the GESRM team when a relevant transaction is entered into the system. Where a potential material reputational risk, related to a specific Equator Principles transaction, is identified by GESRM the transaction may be escalated to the relevant Reputational Risk Committee for discussion and consideration in line with the firm's internal Risk Policies and Procedures⁵.

In 2014, GESRM continued to run formal training sessions for the banking and risk teams that are most likely to be involved in relevant transactions (e.g., real estate). This training is tailored to the specific anticipated requirements of each team's activities.
